Me in a Nutshell

I am from Barcelona, Spain, but I don't like bull-fights and soccer. Baseball is way better! I've recently moved to Chicago, a city that is all about design, and I love it here. I believe that my strength is my ability to listen and learn. Then, I can set up shop and creatively bring the client's ideas to life. And I know for a fact that my weakness is pizza (deep dish Lou's to be exact). When I'm not in front of the screen, you can find me on the bike trails, watching a Cubs game or cooking a tortilla de patatas (Spanish omelette).
